

to  Malcolm

When we asked you why you think you're an awesome kid, you didn't hesitate.

"My hair," you said. "I have awesome hair."

You've grown into your own guy, which we've felt grateful to see. You care about the world and your place in it. You want to share and take care of others, although it can be a challenge sometimes. We love seeing your eyes light up when you learn and master something new, whether it's subtraction or a tricky esquivá in Capoeira. We treasure every time you say "Let me tell you something," because it means that there's something in your world that's so important that you just have to share it with us. You're a smart, caring young man who's learning to make his way in the world and you want to make sure that your family sticks with you all the way. That makes you absolutely awesome.

And you do have awesome hair.

Love,
Mommy and Daddy
